

CURRICULUM VITAE

Adam Williams

PROFILE

A keen and reliable sound recordist/boom operator for film, television & documentary productions. I developed a huge passion for the arts at a young age & took this into adulthood when graduating from Middlesex University with first class honours in a television production/technical arts degree. Have spent the past 8 years growing my professional network within the industry. Recent highlights include being part of the crew on the BAFTA award winning British short film “Operator” as well as having my name included onto the BAFTA crew directory.
