I am a Post Production sound specialist with over 3 decades experience within the Television and Film industry.

My career started in local radio, whilst studying Electronics at CCAT. I then moved into TV audio at CTVC Hillside, London. Initially I worked as Sound Assistant and Boom operator in the studio and for outside broadcasts and PSC, eventually rising to Sound Recordist / Supervisor.

When I moved to Yorkshire TV I became involved in Post Production exclusively mixing primarily a substantial quantity of TV drama output.

After an 18 month stint mixing TV and cinema commercials in the North East I took the leap into becoming freelance and currently work across a wide variety of genres in the North of England and in London.

I have been on the judging panel for the Royal Television Society sound section and nominated on several occasions. I received an RTS award from the Yorkshire branch for Wire In The Blood in 2009.

I am a double bass player and guitarist, husband and father of 3 exhausting children. I enthusiastically attempt to speak 3 European languages with variable degrees of success.
