OBJECTIVE

Syncbox is a London audio post production studio. We are passionate about sound and aim to provide the highest quality recording and sound production possible. If you can hear it, we can record it or manipulate it or compose it, so it sounds exactly how you imagined it. Designing sound is creative, and exciting and it's what we love doing. We can record the simplest of voice overs or sculpt and spatialise audio for Virtual Reality and 360 video. We know the importance of your project, so we'll work with you to achieve the perfect result, in order for you to walk away happy.
